The Millenia by MossCreek is a contemporary reimagined home from the modern era.

Stone, glass, wood and corrugated metal create a mix of modern and warm materials for a balance of Yin Yang architectural expression.

The interior of the design features open living areas and master suite with beamed ceilings on the main level. The vaulted ceiling of the great room fills the home with dramatic light. On the upper level the Millenia features two spacious guest room suites with full baths.

The result is a home that is a comfortable place for living and entertaining in any environment.
